“ I was a friend and worked with Fred for many years being his Petrolite representative. Fred was a hard worker and stayed on top of his production.

I remember him showing me his model Lionel trains. He was also enjoyed his horses. He was very found of his daughter Monica.

Fred was a great friend and will be missed by all that knew him.

“ Met Fred in 2003 through our common employer. He became a friend of mine very quickly. He had a great sense of humor and was always innocently kidding his friends as a joke. But he would give away his ploy with a little boyish smile that would easily tell his friends that the joke is out of the bag. Two things (among many) that I will never forget. Myself and a few others nicknamed him “water bug” because he had to be moving around all the time, couldn’t be still and do nothing. Another trait of Fred was his ability to remember phone numbers and license plate numbers. It was truly amazing to test his ability at remembering them even days after seeing the numbers one time. He had a lot of fun teasing people with this ability. I truly enjoyed my time with Fred and Jo and missed the experience many times.
