“ I fond memory in Florida when I was 6.

I remember coming home from a fishing trip with my dad. Dad wasn't very happy as I lost his new rod & reel while trolling. While still in the boat, he proclaimed the punishment I would receive when we got home. Oh gloom and doom I thought. When we got home, Uncle Elmer and the entire family was there; all the way from Texas. Luckily all was forgiven and I didn't receive a spanking. A blessing indeed.

“ In the summer of 1976, I believe, I was living in Smith's Apartments and was unemployed. There was a knock at my door one morning about 6 am. I met Junior Hammack that morning when he said " you Dad said you needed a job. Get dressed and lets go to work". I worked all that summer building swimming pools mostly and thought the world of him. Junior was a good man and he treated me better than I deserved. My prayers for the family as he will be missed.
