“ Thank you, Dianna, David, and my husband Rodney, for sharing your daddy with me. I love and miss this man I call Pawpaw. I am so blessed to have had him as my father-in-law and in my life since I was 15 years old. I looked up to him as a father and he has guided me through so many things. There are no words to express the influence he had in my life. It is through him and his example that I am a better person. He was hardworking, loving, gentle, strong-willed, and funny. He loved life, God, his family, and people. If he was here with us he would be telling us something funny to make us forget our sadness. I can only imagine the peace in his heart and the smile on his face as he stands before the Lord. He never gave up, his body just became too tired and now it's time for him to rest. Losing him has been one of the most difficult things I have had to do., but I have the comfort and strength in knowing I will one day see him again. Love Wanda

“ The family truly appreciates all your prayers and thoughts during this difficult time. It is hard to let anyone go, especially a special person like my Dad. He was my Dad and best friend and a friend to all who was fortunate enough to cross paths with him. Thanks again and remember to hold all your loved ones close to you because you never know how long they will be with you.

“Joyce, my prayers are with you and your family. I don't guess Frank never did get the doctor to fix the microwave finger as only Frank could tell and show to everyone. Frank was a hoot and a half. I loved him and thought the world of him. You have our number so call us even in the days to come. We love you.
