Mr. John Alan Elliott was born February 7, 1957 on Elmendorf Air Force Base in Mt. View, Anchorage, Alaska. As a child he was inventive, finding ways to make things designed for one purpose work for multiple purposes. He was schooled in Ramona High School graduating from Riverside High School in California with the class of 1974. His mechanical skills kept things flying as he worked on B-52's in the Air Force. John served his country, as his father before him, through the U. S. Air Force. John worked as an aircraft mechanic after his military service. He was the lead tool and die maker for the Nordam Corporation in Tulsa, OK. John was a master woodworker and carpenter, giving great attention to detail. He is preceded in death by his mother, Billie Jean Elliott and his wife, Renee Olivia Franks Elliott.

Mr. Elliott is survived by his father Joe Elliott and wife Kay of DeBerry, son, Joseph Benjamin Elliott of Afganistan, brother; David K. Elliott of Panola, sister; Katherine Ann Elliott of Panola, numerous cousins, other relatives and a host of friends. John tried to live a life of true Christianity. He was a valuable human being and will be sorely missed by family and friends alike.
