“ Josh spent alot of time at my house when he was younger, he and my daughter were friends. He always was such a sweet boy. He always wanted you to know he cared and he wanted, deeply, to make everyone proud of him. He was funny, a jokester, and was always picking. He loved his family and friends more than probably any of them realized and he always had a huge hug. I'll never forget him and I am so sorry for y'all's loss.

“ After my father passed away my senior year in high school my family was having trouble keeping our lawnmower running. Our yard was growing up and getting out of hand. My family and I were sad and frustrated with the situation. I guess Josh could tell I was having a difficult time so he got me to open up about up about everything. I remember coming home one day and not only had Josh fixed the mower but he was mowing my lawn. He was such a great friend and always there when I needed him. I hope his family knows how much he was loved. RIP Josh.

“ You couldn't ask for a better friend, no matter what I always knew I could count on Heard. Josh saved my life on more than one occasion. One night we had the boat planed out trying to get back to the ramp before the sun went down. About the time he told me to keep an eye out for sand bars we hit one. It took at least a minute if not two for me to finally catch my breath from flying face first into the sand. The only thing that kept me alive was the loud sound of his laughter. There was never a dull moment with Heard, and things won't ever be the same without him. I pray his family can somehow find peace in this dark time. Rest in peace Josh, you will be missed.

“ Josh holds a special place in my “teacher” heart. ❤️ He was a pleaser. He was always looking for ways to please others by helping in any way he could. He especially loved to please his teacher...me! His kind heart will not be forgotten. I have so many warm memories of him as a student and some as an adult. He had a great desire and passion for wanting to do and be better in all things. He was a great soul. He touched mine! Praying for this sweet family! 🙏❤️
