Ann and he taught our class when I was around 12. They made it i Just waNT you all to know that you are in my thoughts and prayers and that you all are surrounded by a town that loves you and is here for you. There are no words anyone can say that will ease your heart right now, and what you feel is exactly how any of us would, so i wont even try to change that, but know that everyone your family ever knew or knows loves you all and will keep you constantly lifted up before the LORD to comfort you and allow you to find some peace in your heart in time. i know of no one who ever met anyone in your family that didnt love all of you. allow them all to be there rfor you and call any of those if you need something and no one is already there.

*with much love,
