“ My dad was the best person I've ever known. He would give the shirt off of his back to anyone in need and always had a fun story to tell. Today is 1/9, and we've now been on this earth for 44 days without his infectious smile, loud laugh, and unwavering love. He always made sure to tell us how loved we are and we knew we were the light of his life, undoubtedly. I will miss him every single second of everyday for the rest of my time here. Until we meet again, Dad, thank you for always being my #1 supporter and making me feel like life is worth living. I hope to be more like you. I love you.

Lesile was no doubt one of a kind, couldn't ask for a better friend. He and I grew up together and spent alot of time together through the years before I moved away. But we stayed in touch through the years and would see him when I returned for visits was always a great time.

He was a proud father and would always talk to me about his family and would always ask about mine was a thoughtful loving guy. You would always know when "Bull" was around never meet a stanger.

My condolences to the family. Praying for peace during this difficult time. Rest Easy My Friend Going to miss you 💔
