“ I am saddened by your passing Lewis. You had offered so much & you had more you could share. I am deeply saddened you could not see that & chose this way to leave. Aging is a challenge. I am saddened you could not see the light to keep your life to another end.

I always appreciated Lewis. We could talk cars for hours. And we shared Alec's counsel. In my view, Alec instructed us both, in his words & in what he modeled. I have continued in what I learned from Alec. Lewis blessed his family in service. I last saw Lewis in 2014 at Charlene's Funeral. Margaret went on about how Lewis cared for her, fixing her food, helping her get around. I, too, had been caring for my mother & my grandmother, Charlene, the prior 4 years.

Blessings to his siblings. I've posted the few pictures I have of Lewis. Patricia, I remember you being there for the lobster at Alec & Charlene's. I was newly married & I could see how excited you & Lewis were.

Blessings Lynn, Michael, Cherie & Rene.

“ I miss Lewis; I miss talking to Lewis, he was so easy to talk to and he did not judge people. Lewis and i use to go on trips together especially Arkansas, because it was so close and Lewis knew the area very well and loved showing me all the beautiful spots. We had some really good memories by the water in Arkansas. We flew to Arizona and stayed with his bother and his family, that was exciting for us, I look back and remember how happy he was at that time.

I liked how soft spoken Lewis was, he never yelled or spoke loud, he did not like arguing which was fine with me and his tonality was always soothing to me.

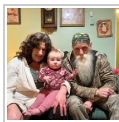

Lewis was good smart mechanic, the best mechanic I knew and he sure could make the a/c in you car blow cold, colder that any mechanic I have ever used. I think about Lewis all the time and I do miss him dearly.

My favorite memory was when we were first married and we use to lay in bed at night and Lewis would read the Bible to me and when I didn't understand something he would patiently explain in a way that was easy for me to understand. I always admired how knowledgeable of the Bible he was.

Until we meet again. I Love You Lewis.

“ I was a very close friend to Lewis in our teens and 20s...As I recall Bob he & I were the bad boys in the little wood frame house subdivision. Over the years, I have tried to find him on FB; never did. Bob would update me on him prior to his death. He actually came to my house in Houston several times to fly out on vacations. Last time I saw him he really didn't want to talk much. Oh well I had no brothers but he was like 1 to me.. I will always remember the hundreds of bike rides..mostly at Sligo....L I hope you are with your folks and Bob....Prayers to you my friend

Lewis was a good friend and much fun to grow up with. Yes, we were always "up to something" but never got into too much trouble. Hadn't spoken in years but have great memories. Blessings to your family. Steve Wright, Phoenix, AZ
