I always thought "Aunt" Paula Jo was the most beautiful woman in the whole wide world. I remember one time when everyone went fishing and she stayed home just so she could play with me. Even though I hadn't seen her in years, we kept in contact online and my heart has broken. Until we meet again with Jesus <3

“ I felt like the oldest first-year teacher in the world until Mrs. Fleming came in the next year. Then, her third year and my fourth, she became my partner teaching eighth graders. She always had unique viewpoints--which I understood. I had some of the most enlightening talks with her after school, when we were both there later than just about anyone else. She took care of my children with snacks when she felt like I had restricted them to the classroom too much, and she was always ready to offer me anything I needed from her. We were fortunate enough to be able to go to Kilgore for PD together, and she drove me by her home the first of several times we made that trip, pointing out landmarks, like the church she'd loved and place across the highway that she thought my husband and I should buy. She was a blessing to me for the year, and she will be missed. She was always glamorous and caring toward her students, who she often said probably only liked the "grandma" aspect of her. Her stories were always inspiring, and her passions were always evident--she lived fully in every moment.

“ I was deeply saddened to hear about the passing of Paula. I had the pleasure of meeting her while she was attending Region 7 ESC, and she quickly became a precious friend to me. Paula was such a joy to talk with and an extraordinary teacher. Her warmth and wisdom left a lasting impression on everyone who knew her. Please know that my thoughts and prayers are with you and your family during this difficult time. Paula's memory will always be cherished by those who had the privilege of knowing her “ Paula is my sister. I started going thru pictures to find pictures with her. As I did that, I realized she missed out on many gatherings. Often showing up as were cleaning up. Her generation of professionals often put in more hours than some of their counterparts. As a single mother earning a living it was necessary. Paula gained an excellent reputation in what ever position she held. In many ways Paula was a trailblazer. Her love of her family is what fueled her daily tasks. Paula always made time for God. No one usually understands the love of a parent until we/they become one. My children loved and admired many things about their Aunt. My heart goes out to her daughter and her grandchildren. A special thanks to David and Gail for their extraordinary support. Many people in our community and in the church family have blessed her and all of the family with their prayers and support. I will miss my SISTER.
