Mr. Rick worked many years as an instrumentation tech for PPG, Altivia, and retired from Altivia. After retirement from Altivia, he completed his dream of moving to East Texas to be closer to his family and built his dream home with his precious wife on their family land. He loved his family dearly, enjoyed spending time with them, but what he enjoyed most was spending time with his youngest son Thomas, and his three grandsons, Forest, Beau, and Luke. He enjoyed spending time in Missouri fly fishing, working out on his family farm at his home in Tenaha, and enjoying life and living for his Lord and Savior. “ I worked with Rick at PPG and ALTIVIA. He was always a true professional and a class act.

I worked with Rick at PPG, and ALTIVIA as well. He was very passionate about his craft, and was someone you enjoyed working with, and around. We would go to Rick to troubleshoot instrumentation, and electrical issues because we knew he would get the job done, and we worked as a team. Anytime we cooked for our department we invited his crew, and he did the same for our crew. I just recently got the news, and our thoughts and prayers go out to his family.
