“ Remember the first person that treated you like a person instead of a child? That was my Uncle Big Bob. He never talked down to me, never got angry at me (or never showed it)
He taught me hunting and fishing, not so much by the book but productive hunting and fishing!
He gave me my first look into a man's world. Every experience with Big Bob was an adventure, a learning opportunity, an ego boost, a challenge, but most of all they were all wonderful memories.
I tried to be like him, fell short in many ways, I do get upset and loud.
I don't think I ever heard Uncle Bob raise his raspy voice.
He had a bit of a soft stammer that just made you listen better to what he was trying to tell you.
Big Bob was a character with a big heart and great sense of humor and he was a magnet for other local characters so hanging out with him was an education. He lives on in everyone he met. He was my hero!
I didn't witness his entire legend but heard many stories over the years from his friends and family members. My cousins Jeff and Keith and I loved Uncle Bob and all have great memories with him and stories to tell. Can't wait to see him again in the Happy Hunting Grounds!

“ My Uncle Bob was like a grandfather to me. When I was little, I remember staying with him and Aunt Mary and I was bored. He gave me a BB gun (I didn't know at the time that it was unloaded) and told me to go shoot some birds. I was about 7 or 8 and I couldn't figure out why I kept "missing" the birds. I finally realized that there were no BBs in the BB gun and Uncle Bob was laughing. He then put me to work crushing aluminum cans. =)
