“ My favorite memories of you Sherry are when you Bryan and Lydia went to the fair in Shreveport. Y'all were back by midnight because there was a time change. Then when we all went to what was called Thrill Hill and I was driving. Y'all didn't think I would do it, but I did. And never again....no way. All these years I have remembered those events. And we would go to the hamburger stand where you worked, and Bryan would get a Frito pie with pickles on top. There really are a lot of good memories of Carthage. You were definitely one of them.
