“ When I was little and stayed with Aunt Barbara and uncle Trumon, Sheryl would always sit down and play the board game sorry with me. To this day I can't look at that game and not think of sitting at the table playing with her. Guess I'll have the game all set up and ready for when I see her again in the new system.

“ A memory from Sheryl's cousin Alicia ☐

When I was little and would go to their house. Sheryl always took me to her room and showed me her paintings & stuff. One day she gave me a string and a jar of buttons and I sat there and strung buttons in her room. I loved it. Now I realize she was keeping the crazy squirrel contained and it's super funny to me. But to this day I love buttons and I just remembered she is why. She's why I always wanted to paint. Didn't manage that so I decided long ago that I would have her teach me in paradise so that is still my plan. 😊
