“ My mom never met a stranger. I can remember almost every time we went to the store together her striking up a conversation with the ppl in line or the checker. She was always sure to let anyone know that I was her daughter. She would say "oh & this is my daughter, isn't she beautiful". I love you Momma! Anyone who is reading this I just want to say "this is my Momma isn't she beautiful".

Tami was my cousin. She was close in age to myself and my late brother, Robbie. We knew Tami when she was young and stayed in touch over the years. So glad for FB and our comments back and forth. Rick and I were able to see Tami and her mom, my Aunt Dot, three years ago when we went up to Wellston and on to the UP. We stopped up and on the way back. I enjoyed talking with Tami, comparing cooking, ailments, our families. She loved hers and her best friends. She spoke of Charles often. I am so sorry, you, her family, are all going through this sad, difficult time right now.

Tami is in heaven. I believe you will all see her again if you, too, have Jesus in your hearts.

I will rejoice in that day.
