“ Sam and I go back to the early 70's in Dallas as field engineers. He was a friend, co-worker, customer, and golfing partner. Johnette and I spent a lot of evenings with Sam and Kathy and miss those times even today. I visited him several times at his paradise on Lake Murval last year and know he was at peace with his ultimate fate. I know he is finally at rest. At last, he's reunited with Kathy and they can happily spend the rest of eternity together.
