“ Bill and I were good friends in school. He was as tough as a boot. I will never forget his days of bull riding....one got him down one night, just knew it was going to kill him. Always had a good sense of humor. He walked many miles up and down 149 the last couple of years. Bill, you will be missed. You are free of pain, my friend. God Bless You.

“ I remember once when I was young, Bill my cousin was at the house in Shreveport along with his parents. We were in the kitchen and he reached into the fridge and retrieved a beverage. After a sip he stated; " that could gag a magot"! I was young and thought how funny to think of gagging a magot!!!! I have not forgotten that all my life! God bless and comfort you Bill.
